

The Dobbiaco-San Candido district heating plant

The district heating plant supplies two communities, Dobbiaco and San Candido, with environmentally friendly thermal energy and represents the cutting edge in the production of environmentally friendly energy in Southern Tyrol.

Get yourself some detailed information on how the district heating plant works, on biomass fuel and on the show path together with the biomass nature trail, the only opportunity of its kind in Europe.

Decide for yourself what is interesting. Have fun!